Child Protection & Creating Safe Environments-3 Ways Teens Reboot: Sending and receiving messages late at night can make it hard to fall asleep or interrupted sleep can affect teens. Teens want to stay connected to friends, but the lack of sleep or interrupted sleep can affect everything from their mood to their sports performance. Here are 5 tips to follow at night that will help boost energy and focus in the morning. 1) Log off your messaging apps, social media and email at bedtime. 2) Turn off your phone when it's time for bed, don't just set it to vibrate. 3) Get in the habit of powering off your devices- especially if they are in your room. Turn off all electronics like laptops, tablets, TVs, and video game consoles. Blinking lights and glowing screens can make it harder to fall and stay asleep. Sticking to a cut-off curfew each night for your devices will give your brain some much needed tech-free downtime. For additional resources, visit: www.eriecrd.org/childprotection/
